Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Department of State: Diplomatic Correspondence With Belligerent Governments Relating to Neutral Rights and Commerce When the American people are asked for a definite opinion on some great question, they cannot offer it to advantage without seeing the record before them. Having neither time nor inclination to search through newspaper files or government reports, they may let hearsay, impulse or emotion, under the spell of headline and editorial take the place of reason in shaping their judgment. In order, therefore, to estimate calmly the situation created by the naval warfare in its bearing upon this country, the course of events since its outbreak ought to be studied carefully in the light of the documents that set them forth. Apart from the Declaration of London, most of the papers her assembled have been taken from Diplomatic Correspondence with Belligerent Governments relating to Neutral Rights and Commerce, published by the Department of State, May 27 1915; the remainder not so published, from newspaper print They serve to illustrate the more important acts and policies of the two great...
