THE lively interest aroused by the public discussions of the questions relating to our currency has given rise to a desire, greater than ever before, for accurate information on the subject. This has manifested itself in the form of inquiries upon every phase of the subject, coming from all parts of the country. The silver question, which for more than twenty years has maintained the first rank in this country, as well as in many of the other countries of the world, has recently been displaced, in a measure, by the bank-note question, first again brought to the attention of the public by the platform of the Democratic party adopted in Chicago in 1892, and subsequently discussed at great length in Congress and in a number of periodicals. In the consideration of this phase of the money question, the systems of banknote issues existing in the United States prior to the inauguration of the Nationalbank system in 1863 and the systems employed by other nations, have naturally become the subject of much study and consequently of prime interest to all who endeavor to know something about them. The inquiries received by me and by many other persons have not, therefore, been confined to the rather elementary topics which form the main portion of my previous publication, The Money of the United States, but have been extended to matters upon which it is much more difficult to obtain comprehensive information, viz., the moneys of other nations. I have, therefore, enlarged the scope of the previous work materially, including the greater part of the matter therein contained in the present volume, bringing the statistics down to a...
